

WHO I WAS YESTERDAY

Who I Was Yesterday...

...A modern urban fairytale told through puppetry, artistic collaboration, and site-specific performance, is a coming-of-age fable that follows Twins who must embark on a journey to escape death at the hands of their own mother, a ferocious, misery-causing creature known as Mother Manticore. The characters are performed using puppets created by a team of Milwaukee-area artisan-designers.

Everyone working on Who I Was Yesterday has donated unquantifiable amounts of time and energy into making this production a success. They are working strictly for your admiration. If you enjoy the show, even in the slightest, please donate a little back to them.

CAST

Tom Thoreson	Marionette
Andy North	Twin
Susan Currie	Mother Manticore
Amie Segal	Grandmother
Kurt Hartwig	Grandfather
Nate Press	Puppeteer
Mike Weber	Puppeteer
Anthony Lyons	Rigging Performance

Voiced by Nate Press	Advance
Voiced by Joan Williamson	Inform
Voiced by Peter Batchelder	Consume

You may not see them, but what you are seeing is the product hours and hours of hard work they put in to make this performance happen

PRODUCTION CREW

Kurt Hartwig	Director
Joan Williamson	Stage Manager
Miranda Soucie	Associate Producer
Michelle Lopez	Vocal coaching
Raeleen McMillion	Vocal coaching
Megan Powell	Marketing
Tim Ramzyk	Graphic Designer

DESIGN and CONSTRUCTION

Nate Stuber	Designer (Scenery, Urban Spirits, Manticore)
Anthony Lyons	Technical Director, Rigging
Jen Lyons	Puppet Designer (Bedbugs, Infants)
Amanda Cervenka	Puppet Designer (Urban Spirits)
Megan Wilkerson	Designer (Grandparents, Tokens)
Randy Bobo	Sound Design
Iain Court	Lighting Design
Teri Wagner	Marionette modeling and sculpture
Bethany Armstrong	2D projection designs
Dixie Jacobs	Make-up, scenic painting
Lisa Schlenker	Stitching and costumes
Anna Warren	Properties
Alvaro Saar Rios	Carpenter